

INVITATION TO POTENTIAL PARTNERS / FUNDERS
INVITATION NUMBER: SANERI/GTC/06/2009

The South African National Energy Research Institute (SANERI) is hosting a Green Transport Programme to coincide with the 2010 Football World Cup (WC) and continue beyond this event. The programme is aimed at showcasing technologies, components and products that support the introduction of green transport options. SANERI aims to do research, demonstrations, develop human capital and promote an industry that would lead to more energy efficient and environmentally friendly options to be available for governmental and public choice in terms of transportation.

Demonstration projects developed thus far are aimed at the following alternative fuels and propulsion systems:

- Compressed Natural Gas
- Electricity (using off-peak electricity to charge batteries)
- Biofuels (both biodiesel and bioethanol)
- Liquefied Petroleum Gas

A Green Transport Centre has been established in Midrand to coordinate implementation of the proposed projects. It is in this context that we are inviting potential partners / funders to engage with SANERI.

Enquiries: All further enquiries, in writing, must be directed to the Programme Manager at SANERI on the fax number +27 (0)10 201 4935 or TitusM@saneri.org.za. Potential partners/funders are requested NOT to contact the Programme Manager telephonically.

Closing date: At this stage, there is no deadline to this invite
